The LSRO Experts and Consultants are selected from among the over 55,000 members of FASEB's twenty professional societies. FASEB members are among the most respected and honored professionals in their field. Over 135 past and present FASEB are recipients of the Nobel prize, and approximately 800 are members of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences or Institute of Medicine.

But FASEB members are just a starting point. To insure the best and brightest are involved in each study, the LSRO selects Experts and Consultants from a worldwide network it has developed over the past 35 years. The LSRO calls on specialists from other scientific disciplines including; education, science administration, regulatory affairs, public health policy, economics, and law.

The LSRO database of experts has recently been made more powerful and flexible to expedite the selection process.
